

Minister for Sport and Racing and Minister for the Olympic and Paralympic Games

Privacy Policy

1. Purpose

The Information Privacy Act 2009 and its Queensland Privacy Principles set the rules for how personal information is to be handled. This Policy relates to the Minister for Sport and Racing and Minister for the Olympic and Paralympic Games and sets out how we manage personal information including:

- (a) the kinds of personal information we collect and hold, how we collect and hold that personal information, and the purposes for which we collect, hold, use and disclose personal information
- (b) how you may complain about our handling of your personal information and how we will deal with the complaint.

2. Scope

This Policy applies to the Minister for Sport and Racing and Minister for the Olympic and Paralympic Games (the Minister) and Ministerial staff members working in the Minister's Office and to the personal information we collect, store, manage, use and disclose in relation to the administration of the Ministerial portfolio responsibilities.

The Minister's Office is separate to the Department of Sport, Racing and Olympic and Paralympic Games (DSROPG). Information may be shared between the Minister's Office and DSROPG to support the implementation of policies and programs, provision of advice, and responding to correspondence and submissions, which may contain personal information.

For information on how DSROPG collects and discloses personal information, please refer to DSROPG's privacy policy.

3. How we manage personal information

3.1 Personal information we collect and hold

The definition of 'personal information' is set out in the Definitions in section 11.

As the Minister for Sport and Racing and Minister for the Olympic and Paralympic Games, the Minister and the Minister's Office undertake many functions to ensure the proper administration of the Sport, Racing, and Olympic and Paralympic Games portfolios. The Minister's Office collects, uses, stores and discloses a range of personal information for the purposes of providing services to carry out the Minister's functions.

This includes personal information about the Minister, current and proposed Ministerial staff members, members of the public, stakeholders, persons attending functions and events organised by the Minister's Office or DSROPG on behalf of the Minister's Office.

Under the IP Act, personal information includes:

- contact details (a person's name, address, phone number or email)
- financial details (e.g., a person's salary, bank account or credit card)
- education or qualification details (e.g., when a person finished school, the degree or certificate held by a person)
- health or biometric details (e.g., medical records, fingerprint, blood-type)
- details about a person's religion or sexuality
- details about a person's membership to clubs or associations
- a photograph or image of a person (e.g., CCTV footage) and audio recordings
- details about a person's ownership of land or livestock
- allegations about a person (whether true or not)
- details about a person's licence, permit or authority.

We may also receive sensitive information. The definition of sensitive information is set out in the Definitions in section 11. We will generally only collect sensitive information with consent, or otherwise consistent with the obligations under the IP Act.

4. How we collect or receive personal information

We collect and receive personal information in a range of ways depending on how you interact with us.

4.1 Collecting personal information

We may collect personal information to perform the functions of the Office, for example to arrange a meeting with you or a stakeholder.

Where possible, we collect the information directly from you or your authorised representative. Sometimes we may collect information about an individual from a third party, or indirectly, including from a Queensland government agency, or other Ministerial Office, but only if: the individual has given consent; if it is otherwise consistent with the obligations under the IP Act; or it is unreasonable or impracticable for us to collect the information from the individual.

4.2 Receiving unsolicited personal information

We receive personal information from individuals without directly asking for it. Personal information may be received when you email us, write to us by mail, contact us by telephone, submit an enquiry through Queensland Cabinet and Ministerial Directory website or when you interact with us through social media platforms. We may also receive your personal information when you correspond with DSROPG, another Minister, Member of Parliament, organisation or other third party where your correspondence relates to matters that fall within the Minister's responsibility.

We take reasonable steps to ensure individuals providing unsolicited personal information to the Minister's Office understand how the information may be used or disclosed, including by publishing this Policy, providing a privacy statement on the Minister's page of the Queensland Cabinet and Ministerial Directory and including a privacy statement in automatically generated acknowledgements to emails.

4.3 Remaining anonymous

You are able to use a pseudonym and remain anonymous when interacting with us unless:

- we are required or authorised under an Australian law, or a court or tribunal order, to deal with individuals who have identified themselves, or
- it is impracticable to deal with you if you have not identified yourself or are using a pseudonym.

We will inform you if you are not able to remain anonymous or use a pseudonym when dealing with us. However, if you do not provide contact details, we may not be able to respond.

5. How we hold and protect personal information

We take seriously our obligations to protect the personal information held by the Minister's Office and take reasonable steps to protect your personal information against misuse, interference and loss, and from unauthorised access, modification or disclosure.

These steps include:

- ensuring physical access to the Minister's Office is secure
- classifying and storing records securely, including storing physical documents in secure cabinets within the Minister's Office
- limiting access to information in records systems to appropriate officers
- monitoring system access with controls and authenticated credentials
- regularly updating and auditing our storage and data security systems.

If personal information that we hold is lost, or subject to unauthorised access or disclosure, we will respond in accordance with the IP Act and our Data Breach Policy. Our priority is to mitigate harm and to provide timely advice to affected individuals if a data breach is likely to result in serious harm.

6. Our activities – why we need personal information (purpose)

The Minister's Office supports the portfolio responsibilities of the Minister.

Our functions and activities that involve personal information include:

- supporting the Minister in relation to their portfolio responsibilities and duties
- supporting the Minister in relation to Cabinet, Executive Council and Parliamentary responsibilities
- supporting the Minister's attendance at events and official visits
- responding to correspondence
- Government communications and engagement with media
- managing employment and human resource matters within the Minister's Office and across all Ministers Offices.

7. Use and disclosure of personal information

We use and disclose personal information for the purpose for which it was collected and received. We will not use or disclose personal information for another purpose (a secondary purpose) unless: you consent to the use or disclosure of the information, it is otherwise consistent with the obligations under the IP Act.

The information you provide to the Minister's Office may be disclosed to DSROPG to respond to your matter or resolve the issues you have raised. It may also be disclosed to other Ministerial offices, departmental staff or other government bodies to resolve issues you raise with us.

We also publish the Minister's diary extracts on a monthly basis, which may include personal information of attendees.

When you engage with us on social media, your personal information may be stored by those platforms in countries outside Australia and will be subject to the platform's own privacy arrangements and laws in the platform's jurisdiction.

8. Access to and correction of personal information

The Information Privacy Act 2009 provides you have a right to access, and request correction of, personal information we hold about you.

We try to provide individuals with access to their own personal information informally. Where a request is unable to be dealt with informally, you may make a formal application under the Right to Information Act 2009 (RTI Act).

The Privacy unit in DSROPG processes RTI Act and IP Act applications on behalf of the Minister's Office. Applications must be in writing and submitted by mail, email or in person as follows:

Email: SPORTPrivacy@sport.qld.gov.au

Mail: Right to Information
Department of Sport, Racing and Olympic and Paralympic Games
PO Box 15478
City East QLD 4002

Further information about how to apply can be found on the DSROPG Right to information webpage.

9. Making a privacy complaint

If you believe we have misused your personal information or did not meet our obligations under the IP Act to comply with the privacy principles, you can make a privacy complaint to us.

Your complaint must:

- be in writing
- include your contact details so we can contact you about the complaint
- provide a description of your privacy issue or concern
- be made within 12 months of the privacy issue occurring.

Privacy complaints may be sent to the Chief of Staff as follows:

Email: sport@ministerial.qld.gov.au

Mail: Chief of Staff
Office of the Minister for Sport and Racing and Minister for the Olympic and Paralympic Games
PO Box 15478
City East
Queensland 4002

Your complaint will be investigated and a written response advising the outcome of the complaint, including any remedies, will be provided to you within 45 business days. If you are not satisfied with our response, you may make a privacy complaint to the Office of the Information Commissioner (OIC). A guide outlining the OIC's privacy complaint process is available on the OIC website.
